Acts 9:1-9

Saul was a Jewish religious leader.

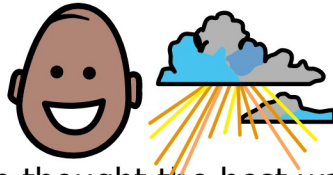

Growing up, he studied the scriptures inside and out.

But Saul became upset as more and more people believed and followed Jesus. He was certain that they were a threat.

He thought the best way to please God was to get rid of Jesus' followers.

He began putting believers in prison,

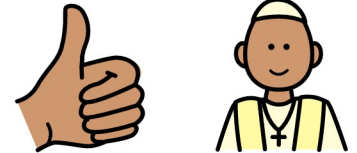

so people fled to other cities.

Saul wanted to follow and arrest them.

With the approval of the high priest,

Saul gathered men to help him.

He hated Jesus' followers so much that he couldn't wait to make the long journey.

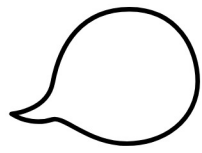

They finally made it to the city of Damascus,

but something happened.

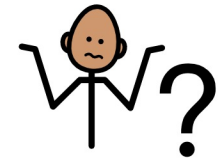

A brilliant light flared from Heaven.

A voice spoke from the light and said,

"Saul, Saul.

Why are you opposing me?"

Saul asked,

"Who are you Lord?"

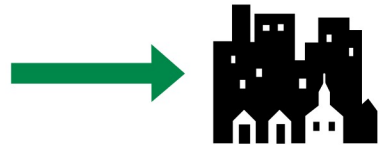

The voice said,

"I am Jesus. I am the one you are opposing."

Jesus said, "Now get up and go to the city.

There you will be told what you must do."

Saul stood up and opened his eyes, but he couldn't see.

When he arrived to the city, he prayed to God.

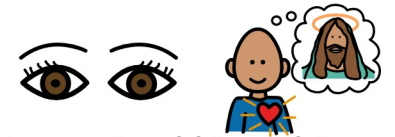

He didn't eat or drink anything.

Saul's meeting with Jesus changed him.

He regained his sight after 3 days and became a follower of Jesus.
